Supply list: Drawing Class with Melissa Gannon

Pencils: just regular pencil and set of drawing pencils is nice to have as the different sizes give you more choices with line and value but it isn't necessary.

If you like to work with color you might want a set of colored pencils. These are not required.

If you have pastels, you might choose to use those as well for a project. They are not required.

Paper: I like to use bristol paper for my colored pencil and pen and ink drawings as it is heavier paper. Drawing paper will work fine. I will also talk about this during the first class.

Tracing paper

Eraser

Other items:

Mobile chair

Water bottle

Sunscreen

Comfortable shoes

Snacks

Where to buy supplies:

I've Been Framed on the corner of 50th and Foster (where Powell and Foster meet). The Muse on Hawthorne Street. Dick Blick downtown and in Beaverton (give student discounts). Columbia Art Supplies on 16th and Burnside (give student discounts). On-line: Cheap Joes, a North Carolina place that's just a nice store, and cheap. Michael's is good ONLY if you have a coupon or a teacher's card.
